

Howdy from the Payson Old Time chapter.

We're doing well, getting together every week or two as life permits.

All around the musicians are improving and getting braver, and we're looking to start performing around town at places like the senior center and the assisted living here in Payson. The chapter is getting stronger and we're so glad because we don't want to leave anyone in the lurch.

Michael will be starting school in Indiana this fall, working towards a degree in mechanical engineering at one of the toughest universities for engineering. What he looks forward to the most is working in the state of the art machine shop where he can make his ideas for after market car parts a reality. He'll be busier then he's ever been in his life, but based on past performance and work ethic, we believe he's up for the challenge.

Caitlin and Faith are enrolled as well, but they're keeping it simple and easy, currently majoring in light subjects like mathematics and economics.

Turns out that participation in community building and enriching activities is a handy thing to have in your pocket when applying for scholarships, and AOTFA embodies a lot of what some benefactors are looking to support. We hope many more young people will be inspired to be involved not because they want "service hours" to fill a quota, but because it really is an essential building block to a mature productive adult. Successful people are participators, and teens are no exception.

Ragtime Annie

Rag

Kenny Baker's

A Section

Musical notation for the A Section of Ragtime Annie. The section consists of two lines of music in treble clef with a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). The first line begins with a D chord and ends with an A7 chord. The second line features a first ending (marked '1') and a second ending (marked '2'), both with D chords. The first ending concludes with a triplet of eighth notes, and the second ending also concludes with a triplet of eighth notes.

B Section

Musical notation for the B Section of Ragtime Annie. The section consists of three lines of music in treble clef with a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). The first line starts with a D chord, followed by a G chord, and ends with an A7 chord. The second line begins with a D chord and ends with a D7 chord. The third line starts with a G chord, followed by a D chord, an A7 chord, and ends with a D chord.

Weiser National Fiddle Contest News

This year Weiser had a large in person turn out and they are trying to make even more improvements for the future. They had fun activities for the kids each day to help them get to know each other and a social hour for the adults each night. They offered an online contest version which only yielded 3 contestants in the youth division and 7 in the adult division so it is doubtful that part will continue. I would encourage our Arizona fiddlers to attend in person next year if you can. It is great fun and we would love to get to see even more of our wonderful Arizona fiddle family there!
